

WASHINGTON (July 1) – As negotiations on the debt limit continue between Congress and the President, Congressman Spencer Bachus (AL-6) said the issue should be about cutting spending.

“The problem is a spending problem, it is not a taxing problem,” Bachus said during an interview on Fox 6 Birmingham’s “Good Day Alabama” on Wednesday.

Bachus also stressed the need for spending reductions and structural budgetary reforms, including entitlement programs, during a speech to the Birmingham Rotary.

To view an excerpt from Congressman Bachus’ television interview, click here.